Något jag skrev en natt och tycker om. Vad tycker ni?

Man men and honor.

"Man, men and honor."

As blazing fires split the night
Silent warriors prepare the fight
Wailing screams pierce the moore
Death is knocking at the door
When soul is hard and mind is calm
Death wont do them any harm
Sun arise and fight is due
The light of day will starts the queue
Different queues for every man
If you embrace it sword in hand
Facing death all men will
Its your choice what line to fill
The line of cowards may feel safe
But the line of Legends
Never fades.
