Buried

a scream of silence echoes across barren sands of what I was...

buried beneath a frozen shell, encased in my own living hell am I human, demon or god? the answer lies within me but I can't tell

I lie paralyzed with anger, torqued in heart the void inside have made me petrified, life or death? I'm torn apart just want to breath a different air is there an exit? take me there a scream of silence echoes across barren sands of what I was...
