

Publicerad 2007-06-06 21:30 av TheThinLine

Will.

The will to do anything, the will to do nothing.

The will to make a difference, the will to run away.

The will to live, the will to die.

Iron will is the will to get.

Everything is easy and all resistance is useless.

At least until the will fades away and you become the useless little creature you've always been. Everything was a dream.

Get your will. Use your will. Make your will heard to the unwilling.

Texten är utskriven från Poeter.se

Författaren TheThinLine med Poeter.se id #16760 innehar upphovsrätten