Denna dikt skrevs en dag när det regnade och jag tänkte på en vän som hade det svårt.

Angels tears

The rain has been falling like angels tears today.

I believe the angels cried for you this day.

I know someone were there watching over you,
holding you in his loving hand.

Someone were there crying your uncried tears.

I know I were there with you all day.

In my heart I'm by your side always and every day.

I know the Lord is too.

He will always carry you!
